

CON-GRAD-ULATIONS!

(By Sekretariat Mahasiswa Fakulti (SMF))

On 18th December 2020, the “Sekretariat Mahasiswa Fakulti (SMF)” organised a program to celebrate the final year students of Faculty of Applied Sciences and give appreciation for their hard work and determination in completing their studies in the university. This programme was meant to strengthen the bonds of FSG’s last semester students. Eighty-nine students attended the programme along with several lecturers. Seven categories were awarded to the students. During this program, a variety of performances such as sign language performance and singing were shown. Three sessions of lucky draws for students, and one session of lucky draws for lecturers were held. In total, there were 30 lucky draw winners. To conclude, there were seven winners for each category of awards given to the final year students.

The process of nomination until selection for the winners of the award was no easy feat. Students will fill up a form nominating themselves, and for the second step, lecturers will validate the information in which the students filled up to ensure the authenticity of achievements. After the information of the students have been authenticated, judges or lecturers will then choose and decide a winner for the said categories of awards. The winners’ pictures and names will be converted into thumbnails and posted on the official SMF Instagram account for appreciation. Next event that was held in this programme was a lucky draw. Since we held this event virtually amid the pandemic and Movement Control Order, we chose to choose lucky draw winners with some unorthodox method. In the beginning, lucky draw winners were only chosen from the students that had filled up the participation form as they were given a number after they have clicked the submit button. To actually ‘draw’ the number for the lucky few, we have decided to use an online website which its sole purpose is to spin the wheel and point to the lucky names. In addition to that, not only students were the participants for the lucky draw event, and even lecturers were given a chance to win some prizes.
